Silver¹ AccessPass PartnerNetwork

What is AccessPass PartnerNetwork?

This is our official partner and customer technology evaluation program that grants our clients and technical partners the access needed to software solutions, and the technical training needed to use our software solutions and applicable partner solutions for training, trial and evaluation for pre-production (sandbox) deployments, including cloud application and data services. AccessPass also grants customers the flexibility to use and try-out the software in advance, for evaluation and use-case validation. Small business who are unable to afford the license are encouraged to consider this path

How much does it cost to join AccessPass?

This program is without charge to enroll, and there is no contract or obligation required to join access pass partner network. The only requirement is to join the program which can be done by sending your contact information to support@nowellgroup.com ; We will need your name, email and day time phone number; This will grant potential customers and technical partners needed access to software, credential access, for pilot use, training and evaluation purposes, fit for investment use case studies, etc.

What benefits does AccessPass grant?

For end users, this is the best and fastest option to stage trials, evaluations and pilot programs for enterprise end users, and technology partners; during which you can learn about Verity BPM software solutions, integration and deployment options and much more. For a limited basis, we can also offer WebEx training for end clients and strategic technology partners (please schedule in advance); In addition, we can also share our expertise to a limited extent
